

In the Claims

Change the claims as indicated below:

- 1-5. (canceled)
6. (currently amended) A towel attachment device comprising:
- a) a flat, rectangular shaped towel made of a single sheet of material and including an eyelet extending therethrough adjacent a corner of said towel;
 - b) a clasp for releasably securing said device to clothing of a user, said clasp comprising a carabiner, said carabiner including a C-shaped member and a latch pivotally connected to said C-shaped member, said latch being movable between a first closed position and a second open position, whereby when said latch is in said second open position, clothing is receivable within said C-shaped member and said C-shaped member is caused to extend through said eyelet, wherein said towel is releasably secured to the clothing upon movement of said latch into said first closed position via said carabiner; and
 - c) said towel having a rectangular flap forming a club cloth occupying a corner of said towel diagonally opposite the corner having said eyelet, said flap being attached along two adjacent edges of said flap to said towel forming a partial enclosure between said flap and said towel whereby a user can clean wet and muddy items within said partial enclosure, said towel and flap having customized indicia thereon.

7-13. (canceled)
